The ideal candidate has hands-on QA experience working with Drupal developers, has led QA initiatives, and managed the quality of global websites (including China-based translated satellite sites); is well versed in QA and understands the QA landscape and how to leverage the right tools for the right job.

What will you be doing?

- Oversee quality assurance for all work completed by the Drupal developer and other teams on the platform.
- Develop, maintain, and execute automated QA scripts to ensure consistent testing.
- Conduct regression testing to ensure previous functionality remains intact after updates or changes.
- Perform performance and scalability testing to ensure the platform meets performance standards.
- Document testing processes, scripts, and results to maintain transparency and knowledge continuity.
- Collaborate with developers and stakeholders to establish and improve testing best practices and processes.
- Integrate QA scripts with the CI/CD pipeline for automated testing in the development workflow.
- annual testing when necessary, identifying and reporting bugs and issues.
- Create and manage test plans, scenarios, and cases for both manual and automated testing.
- Ensure all website QA is done according to ESI standards and following best practices.
