Description

● Are you in Brazil, Argentina, or Colombia? Join us as we actively recruit in these locations, offering a comfortable remote environment. Submit your CV in English, and we'll get back to you!

We invite a skilled and autonomous Test Engineer with strong expertise in manual testing and an interest in expanding into automation to join our team. In this role, you'll contribute to enhancing and maintaining a robust Payroll platform that streamlines the payroll process and automates key HR tasks. You'll be part of the team developing a new Premium Shipping Service feature to track the shipment of payroll outputs, providing status updates from processing to successful delivery.

■ What's in it for you:

- Work with a leading company in payment processing and payroll solutions
- Contribute to a live product with 60K+ business users across diverse industries
- Enhance your frontend, backend, and integration testing skills while also collaborating with a supportive QA community

✓ Is that you?

- 4+ years of manual testing experience
- Experience testing integrations with third-party services
- Strong API testing skills (Postman or similar tools)
- Experience with web debugging tools (Charles Proxy or Fiddler)
- Basic database testing experience
- Experience creating test documentation
- Knowledge of Agile methodologies
- Strong problem-solving abilities and attention to detail
- Good communication and collaboration skills
- Demonstrated proactivity, autonomy, flexibility, and a strong sense of accountability
- Upper-Intermediate+ English level

Desirable:

- Basic C# knowledge and familiarity with Playwright, or willingness to learn quickly
- Practical experience with Azure DevOps

✦ Key responsibilities and your contribution

- Perform manual testing to ensure software quality and functionality
- Create, update, and execute test cases and test plans
- Document and report test results and bugs
- Collaborate with developers to review requirements and resolve issues
- Test integrations with third-party services
- Perform API testing to validate endpoints, responses, and integrations
- Conduct basic database testing
- Attend Agile ceremonies, update on testing progress, and suggest improvements
- Automate key workflows using C# and Playwright as needed
